RISING SENIORS

SUBJ: Rising Seniors! Is college next for you?

If you plan to attend college, starting planning as soon as possible is important. As a student or parent, you should consider factors such as the type of school, cost, and location when deciding where to apply. Once you have completed your initial research, take another look at the schools on your prospective college list. Your final list should include at least one school that you know you can get into and afford, a few schools where you have a high likelihood of acceptance, and one or two schools that may be a reach for you. Remember, this is the exciting part! Shop around until you find the perfect fit.
